Our mission and purpose

CEL's mission is to provide English language instruction and cultural enrichment experiences to speakers of other languages who want to improve their English skills for personal, professional, or academic reasons. Our educational programs take an integrated skills approach to language learning with a focus on communicative language teaching. We aim to establish a professional yet friendly atmosphere in our offices, common areas, and classrooms so that every student feels accepted into a friendly and supportive environment where learning can take place.

Our curriculum supports the two primary goals contained within our mission statement: 1. the goal of improving students' English skills for personal, professional, or academic reasons and 2. doing so using an integrated skills approach and the communicative approach. CEL limits class size to 10 in an effort to achieve a very intimate, friendly, and supportive learning environment as stated in our mission. We provide a wide range of services to support our students during their stay in a new country and city. The housing, activities, and friendly service from the CEL staff are offered to foster an enjoyable, comfortable, and safe stay while students learn English and explore a new culture and new city.

To ensure our policies are in alignment with our mission statement, we review our mission before making adjustments to policies or large scale changes in our academic programs and school operations. We collect input and feedback from a variety of sources including agents, students, and service providers as described below in our discussions on student needs analysis and monitoring of providers. We use this information to align the school goals as described in the mission with the goals of our students. In addition, CEL continually strives to implement policies that will enhance our students' educational and cultural experience, which is in alignment with our mission statement.

CEL programs & course goals

CEL offers the following programs:

- General English: Integrated skills: speaking, grammar, listening, reading, writing, and vocabulary
- TOEFL preparation: Test preparation: testing strategies and practice tests for all parts: reading, writing, speaking, and listening
Language development: vocabulary and additional practice for all language skills

CEL cares deeply about the satisfaction of our clients. Some of our students apply directly to CEL, but most of our students book their courses through agents. Therefore, we consider both students and agents to be our clients, and consequently their opinions, requests and suggestions are of paramount importance.

We send each student a one week survey that they can submit any time during their stay to rate their satisfaction and to voice their opinions, suggestions or concerns. Additionally, each student is required to complete an exit survey. CEL reads with care every survey that we receive from our current and graduating students because these surveys help us gauge student satisfaction and allow us to identify ways to improve. We always maintain open communications with our clients and are happy to receive face-to-face feedback as well as emails or phone calls.

Agents are encouraged to contact the school at any time, and students always have direct access to staff and administrators on-site. We welcome their requests, concerns, and opinions because we are always looking for opportunities to grow, improve and better serve our clients. Additionally, the Marketing Director and the CEO meet with agents often throughout the year. Trends in comments, requests or suggestions may prompt us to change policies or curriculum and may lead to program creation or change in order to better suit the needs of our clients.

By carefully analyzing our student achievement data and monitoring trends in weekly feedback given by the Level Up Exam team and all teachers during the Monday faculty meetings, the education team is able to identify changes necessitated by a dynamic student body. Student populations, their language strengths and weaknesses, cultural and educational differences, and goals, inform our curricular design. We review and revise curriculum annually or more if warranted.

The course goals for General English courses are to achieve the corresponding proficiency level as defined by the CEFR scale (as seen in chart above). The course objectives and SLOs are aligned with each other and the CEFR scales and descriptors of proficiency. See the 2019 CEL General English Course Goals & Objectives and SLOs document attached below.

For example, one marker of an A2 level student on the CEFR global scale is someone who “Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters.” For the corresponding level at CEL (Basic B), one of the course objectives for speaking is, “Students will participate in short social exchanges or exchanges of information related to familiar topics and activities with other classmates and the teacher.” This corresponds with one SLO for Speaking, “Students can ask and answer questions on simple and direct information related to familiar topics and activities,” and one for listening, “Students can identify and extract the main points in short, clear, simple discussions, conversations, etc.”

As you can see from the example, the SLOs describe an observable and measurable language skill, and its corresponding course objective guides instruction and lesson planning to address that particular skill which, in turn, permits the students to achieve the course goal.

CEL is an immersion school and supports the use of an eclectic blend of teaching methods, approaches, techniques and strategies. For example a teacher may approach grammar content using the audio-lingual method, the structural approach, or both. They may choose incorporate Total Physical Response (TPR) into an activity or lesson, or teachers can design a task-based language learning activity to reinforce target vocabulary or build specific speaking interaction skills. However, at the center, all of our programs take an integrated skills approach to language learning. Every program focuses on developing the four skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Additionally, the programs are student-centered and frequently use the communicative language teaching method.

California State approval

CEL San Diego is a private institution and is approved to operate by the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education (BPPE). Approval to operate means the institution is compliant with the minimum standards contained in the California Private Postsecondary Education Act of 2009 (as amended) and Division 7.5 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations.

California Bureau of Private Proprietary Education information

Any questions a student may have regarding this catalog that have not been satisfactorily answered by the institution may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at 2535 Capitol Oaks Drive, Suite 400, Sacramento, CA 95833, P.O. Box 980818, Sacramento, CA 95798-0818, Website address www.bppe.ca.gov, telephone and fax numbers (888)370-7589 or by fax (916)263-1897; (916)431-6959 or by fax (916)263-1897.

Catalog review

As a prospective student, you are encouraged to review this catalog prior to signing an enrollment agreement. You are also encouraged to review the School Performance Fact Sheet, which must be provided to you prior to signing an enrollment agreement.

Location of class sessions

All classes are held at 233 A Street, Suite 400, San Diego CA, 92101, USA.

Faculty qualifications

All teachers must have earned a bachelor's degree and TEFL, CELTA, or TESOL certification.

Experience requirements: As for experience requirements, one year of comparable teaching experience is preferred. Novice teachers will receive additional support, monitoring, and guidance during their first year at CEL. Exam preparation teachers must have additional training or experience related to the exam that they will be preparing students for.

Proficiency requirements: All teachers must be native speakers with the exception of the Basic A course. Non-native speakers will have to demonstrate near native language proficiency by attaining a master's degree or higher in English or TEFL/TESOL.

Faculty are required to have a TEFL, CELTA, or TESL certificate, as well as a bachelor's degree. CEL adheres to these requirements to employ teachers with the skills to best teach ESL students and to fulfill the academic portion of our Mission. In addition, CEL asks that all faculty are native English speakers in order to better educate students on the American language and culture. Our exception to that rule is for the Basic A course, for which a teacher needs to meet the proficiency requirements stated above. We believe that at this level a proficient speaker is equally as effective as a native speaker. Exam preparation teachers are required to have further training and/or experience in order to be sure they are fully capable of meeting the course SLOs.

Admissions Policies

Students who enter CEL have an age requirement of at least 16 years old. CEL believes students must be mature enough to engage in class discussions and to treat their fellow students, as well as, the staff with respect. This helps to create our “professional yet friendly atmosphere” described in our mission statement. Language learning can occur at any age, but CEL believes students must feel comfortable with each other and in a classroom environment for real learning and language growth to occur. In our mission, we say we aim to help students learn English whether for personal, professional or academic reasons. The General English program is designed to help anyone (16+) with the goal of learning English. For students who are learning English with an academic or professional goal of taking TOEFL, FCE or CAE exams, the exam preparation courses are available.

Federal and state financial aid programs

CEL does not participate in any U.S. federal and state financial aid programs. If a student obtains a loan he or she will have the responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan plus interest, less the amount of any refund. CEL does not participate in any federal student financial aid funds, but a student is entitled to a refund of the monies not paid from federal student financial aid funds.

Student tuition recovery fund

(a) A qualifying institution shall include the following statement on both its enrollment agreement and school catalog:

“The State of California established the Student Tuition Recovery Fund (STRF) to relieve or mitigate economic loss suffered by a student in an educational program at a qualifying institution, who is or was a California resident while enrolled, or was enrolled in a residency program, if the student enrolled in the institution, prepaid tuition, and suffered an economic loss. Unless relieved of the obligation to do so, you must pay the state-imposed assessment for the STRF, or it must be paid on your behalf, if you are a student in an educational program, who is a California resident, or are enrolled in a residency program, and prepay all or part of your tuition.

You are not eligible for protection from the STRF and you are not required to pay the STRF assessment, if you are not a California resident, or are not enrolled in a residency program.”

(b) In addition to the statement required under subdivision (a) of this section, a qualifying institution shall include the following statement in its school catalog:

“It is important that you keep copies of your enrollment agreement, financial aid documents, receipts, or any other information that documents the amount paid to the school. Questions regarding the STRF may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education, 1747 North Market Blvd., Suite 225, Sacramento, California, 95834, (916) 574-8900 or (888) 370-7589.

To be eligible for STRF, you must be a California resident or enrolled in a residency program, prepaid tuition, paid or deemed to have paid the STRF assessment, and suffered an economic loss as a result of any of the following:

1. The institution, a location of the institution, or an educational program offered by the institution was closed or discontinued, and you did not choose to participate in a teach-out plan approved by the Bureau or did not complete a chosen teach-out plan approved by the Bureau.
2. You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution within the 120 day period before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, or were enrolled in an educational program within the 120 day period before the program was discontinued.
3. You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution more than 120 days before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, in an educational program offered by the institution as to which the Bureau determined there was a significant decline in the quality or value of the program more than 120 days before closure.
4. The institution has been ordered to pay a refund by the Bureau but has failed to do so.

5. The institution has failed to pay or reimburse loan proceeds under a federal student loan program as required by law, or has failed to pay or reimburse proceeds received by the institution in excess of tuition and other costs.
6. You have been awarded restitution, a refund, or other monetary award by an arbitrator or court, based on a violation of this chapter by an institution or representative of an institution, but have been unable to collect the award from the institution.
7. You sought legal counsel that resulted in the cancellation of one or more of your student loans and have an invoice for services rendered and evidence of the cancellation of the student loan or loans.

To qualify for STRF reimbursement, the application must be received within four (4) years from the date of the action or event that made the student eligible for recovery from STRF.

A student whose loan is revived by a loan holder or debt collector after a period of noncollection may, at any time, file a written application for recovery from STRF for the debt that would have otherwise been eligible for recovery. If it has been more than four (4) years since the action or event that made the student eligible, the student must have filed a written application for recovery within the original four (4) year period, unless the period has been extended by another act of law.

However, no claim can be paid to any student without a social security number or a taxpayer identification number.”

Transferability of credits and credentials

NOTICE CONCERNING TRANSFERABILITY OF CREDITS AND CREDENTIALS EARNED AT OUR INSTITUTION

The transferability of credits you earn at College of English Language (CEL) is at the complete discretion of an institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the CEL Certificate or Diploma you earn in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the certificate or diploma that you earn at this institution is not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending CEL to determine if your certificate or diploma will transfer.

Accreditation

Commission of English Language Accreditation is a specialized accrediting agency which focuses on post-secondary intensive English language programs and institutions. In order to obtain such accreditation through CEA, languages schools are provided with a systematic approach by which institutions are able to demonstrate their compliance through accepted standards, and continuous improvement to assist schools in providing an environment with the highest level of learning for all students.

CEA is a recognized accreditor by the US Secretary of Education. In doing so, the US Secretary determines the quality of education or training provided by the CEA accredited institute is reliable and provides the highest level of education.

The College of English Language strives to guarantee the highest possible quality of services to our clients. In order to properly meet these standards, our services are regularly evaluated to meet accreditation requirements set by bodies such as the United States Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVIS).

As an accredited institution, CEL is qualified to issue I-20's to welcome students from all around the world with an F1 student visa.

Standards for student achievement & Attendance

In order to remain in good standing and receive a certificate or diploma at the completion of the course, CEL students must attend a minimum of 85% of their classes.

Facilities, equipment and materials

Our current facilities were designed and built out for CEL, which has allowed our school to ensure the facilities best meet our needs. CEL classrooms were designed to fit 10 students as we limit the number of students to 10 per classroom. We have a student lounge with computers equipped with Internet and free wireless Internet access to our students throughout the school. In the last year, we added additional work areas and more classrooms due to increased student enrollment. We have a classroom with sliding partition doors to enable us to use the space in a flexible manner. During our high season we utilize our classroom space with both morning and afternoon classes to ensure our small class sizes and appropriate use of space throughout our facilities.

Language proficiency requirements

There is no minimum level of English language required. A test to determine the student's level of English will be taken on the first day. According to the result the student will be placed in the right level. All instruction is in English.

Library and learning resources

CEL does not have a library.

Student grievances Policy

We want you to have the best CEL experience possible. If you are unhappy in any way, we encourage you to speak with a CEL staff member as soon as possible. If you are unhappy with your English lessons, please first speak with your teacher. Your teacher is here to help and only wants the best for your English education. If you can't solve the problem with your teacher, please contact our Director of Education to address the issue.

Students are informed during orientation and on all documents to contact our housing team if any questions or concerns arise. Any reported deficiencies are investigated and corrected immediately. The housing team are trained to follow all student complaints procedures as detailed in Student Complaints standards.

CEL has a dedicated housing team in charge of placing students in housing and taking care of possible complaints. Our housing team is available for students during all business hours. Our team checks with students on their first day to be sure all students are happy with their housing. If you can't solve the problem with a member of our housing team, please contact our Director of Admissions and Housing to address the issue.

Any student, who after having exercised the student complaint procedures and having made every attempt possible to find a resolution to the issue, yet remains unsatisfied, has the right to forward the complaint to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education by calling (888) 370-7589 or by completing a complaint form, which can be obtained on the bureau's internet Website (www.bppe.ca.gov) ." *The following may be used for inserts: Toll-free telephone #: (888) 370-7589 Web site Address: www.bppe.ca.gov

Student Services

CEL offers a broad range of services programs and services to help students reach their personal and academic goals and make their stay as pleasant as possible. Students may access these services by scheduling an in-person meeting with the school Administrator.

Our student services include: accommodation placement, airport transfer, social activities, health insurance, orientation meeting and a student services team which members will help students with all type of questions that may arise during their stay.

Policy on the retention of student records

CEL retains records of each student who is and has been enrolled in a CEL program. The electronic record indicates if the student is entitled to a certificate or diploma, i.e., has remained in good standing throughout the course. CEL maintains and retains your student records indefinitely and you may request a duplicate certificate or diploma at any time at no cost provided that you were a student in good standing.

Any unanswered questions
